

Vinjon Global Corp: Quietly Taking Over the World

About Vinjon Global Corp

Vinjon Global Corp is a collaborative art project, as well as a privately traded C-Corp, registered in Minnesota. It was founded in 2012 by CEOs Hunter Jonakin and Jordan Vinyard. The business was formed in order to create products for artists, art installations, and to provide charitable funds to aid struggling artists with individual projects.

List of Works

Sub-Contracted Installation 2012 Cardboard boxes	Plastic, wood, paint, steel, fan	Vinjon Stocks 2012 Mixed media
Life Buoy for the Struggling Artist 2012 Mylar, nylon, harness, fan	Utility Harness for the Tortured Artist 2011 Nylon, stepper motor, pen nibs, flex sensor, micro-controller	Vinjon Roll-Out Video 2012 Film
Feedback Buffer Isolation Units 1 & 2 2012	Suits of Scintillation: Vinjon Ghillie Suits 2012 Mylar, mesh	Wall of Contention 2012 Wood, paint, drywall

About Jordan Vinyard

Jordan Vinyard's kinetic sculptures, installations, and drawings incorporate issues of biological messiness, social compulsion, as well as innate human fallibility. A recent graduate, Jordan received her MFA from Florida State University, Preceding her graduate degree; she studied at University of Central Oklahoma, in her native state. Jordan lives and works in Leesburg, Florida.

About Hunter Jonakin

Born in North Alabama, Hunter Jonakin received his BFA in Visual Art at the University of Minnesota after spending several years in a career in music. In 2011 Hunter completed his MFA at Florida State University. Hunter lives and works in Minneapolis, Minnesota. According to Hunter: "I am interested in visual and conceptual contrasts and, as a whole, I work to integrate disparate entities. Although incongruent when directly compared, all of these subjects form informational filaments that reach out to each other, support, and intertwine in order to create a hybrid view point."